

How to Apply for the Putnam County Junior Fair Board

Any young person, 13-19 years of age, in Putnam County, Tennessee is eligible to be on the Junior Fair Board. You just have to love fairs, have a desire to help others, be willing to attend meetings and work at the fair.

It is a time commitment when you join the Junior Fair Board. It takes time each month to attend meetings, and complete projects. The time commitment is less during the late fall and winter months. But come spring and summer things do pick up.

You will be involved in the planning of the Putnam County Fair, and you will have an opportunity to recommend program and entertainment ideas. During the fair you will work on fair committees, work in the fair information booths, assist in setting up for events, assist with taking entries, and managing all aspects of a community event involving over 1,000 volunteers and over 50,000 people who attend the fair.

So, are you interested in being on the Junior Fair Board? Okay, fill out the Application posted on this website. Send it to Dawson Davidson and Susanna Clouse, Putnam County Fair, P.O. Box 1001, Cookeville, TN 38503.

There is a committee of fair board members and junior fair board members who will review your application and interview you. Be sure all information on the application is correct. You can expect to hear from someone on the Junior Fair Board within a month of sending in an application.

Good Luck! If you have questions about what all is involved in being a Junior Fair Board Member you may contact Dawson, Susanna or John Allen, President, Putnam County Fair.
